GOING DEEPER

- 1) Read Psalms 127:3-5. Pastor Dave talked about similarities between shooting an arrow and raising children. What were some of those similarities?

- 2) What are some ways that children receive direction from their parents? Is there one way that seems more powerful and effective than the others?

- 3) Drawing the bow is similar to preparing your child for his or her future. What are some ways to prepare children for a godly future?

- 4) An arrow that has been aimed with the bow string pulled taut is useless if the archer won't let go of the arrow. Why is it so hard for parents to let go of their children? How can we learn to let go and let God have His way in their life?

- 5) In which of these three areas do you personally struggle the most? What are you doing to deal with your struggle?

GOD'S TRUTH TO REMEMBER

Proverbs 22:6 (ESV) - Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it.
